Primary360
is a game-changer

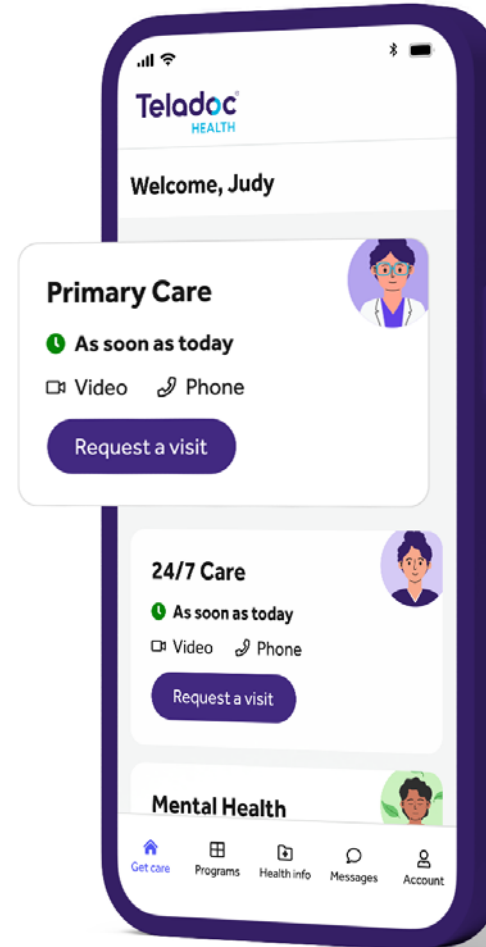

Primary care is where health starts. And no other provider does virtual primary care like this for your population.

Building on our expertise in virtual care, Teladoc Health introduced Primary360 in 2021. Now several years in market, Primary360—the first virtual primary care solution of its kind—has the data to show real results and value no other provider can.

Since its launch, the service has grown to cover more than four million lives, proving to be an experience that both clients and members love.

Our methodology

Teladoc Health continuously evaluates key performance indicators (KPIs) for the Primary360 program. This report analyzes data from 2021-2023 across four million eligible lives, offering insights into the program's effectiveness. The analysis covers visits, demographics, follow-ups, cost savings, clinical outcomes and member satisfaction.

► We also examined a cohort study of claims data from a large health plan client, covering 50K members with at least six months of eligibility and one claim. This analysis identifies trends in healthcare utilization and cost savings, providing valuable insights into member engagement.

Program highlights

Primary360 expands access to care through an exceptional member experience while delivering meaningful outcomes and reducing healthcare spend for our clients.

Member value

Primary360 is primary care with comprehensive support every step of the way—from the initial assessment and same-day visits to thorough follow ups.

This is easy-to-access, relationship-based primary care that provides an experience members use and love.

Clinical value

Primary360 sets and continues to raise the bar for clinical quality. Just like traditional primary care, we enforce industry standards and telemedicine best practices through layered physician oversight and, when needed, navigation to high-quality, cost-efficient providers. The result? Earlier detection and diagnosis of hidden health challenges.

I feel like I can build a relationship with my Teladoc Health doctor. I just didn't think I was ever going to have anybody like her, she is so wonderful.”

The data is clear.

Primary360 is a powerful and innovative approach to care that provides real results for members and clients alike, with the possibility of transforming how and when people receive the care they need. In today's complex, evolving and costly healthcare landscape, it's crucial to provide the populations you serve with a modern healthcare solution that delivers real results. With over 100 million Americans lacking adequate primary care access, now is the perfect time to embrace the power of virtual primary care.
